This makes in all a federal appropriation for use in all of the states amounting in nine years to $4,580,000 annually. On the basis of the last federal census, at the end of nine years from July 1, 1914, Wisconsin s share will be $109,700 annually, provided the state meets the federal appropriation dollar for dollar after the first $10,000. These funds can only be used for definite extension projects in agriculture and home economics, which must first be approved by the Secretary of Agriculture. The beneficent provision incorporated of making this appropriation available only upon the specific appropriation by the state will doubtless result in much more cautious expenditures than would be the case if federal grants were made without restriction. So comprehensive and farreaching a...
